You can combine this tour with 7 days extension to LADAKH & KASHMIR

Ladakh - 'Little Tibet', 'the moonland' and the Last Shangar La' are the names that have been applied to Ladakh- a high attitude plateau north of the Himalayas situated geographically near Tibet, the people are Tibetan in their culture and religion, and there are many Tibetan refugees living there.

Kashmir - One of the most beautiful regions of India and the oriental super-Switzerland has lost nothing of that magnetic charm it held centuries ago in the days of the Mughals. Srinagar, the main town along with Dal and Nagin Lakes, has at 1768 meters altitude an alpine climate. The Mughals built palaces and Persian-style gardens. When the British came they were forbidden by the Maharajah to build on this land. So quite ingeniously, they built houseboats.
